Interactive Guidelines

General Guidelines

- Animation - Ads may animate for up to 15 seconds. Animation can begin again on mouse over, but must stop immediately on mouse off.
- Audio - Audio must be user initiated.
- Borders - Ads must clearly be differentiated from page content through a defined linear or graphical border, a solid contrasting back ground color or a combination of border and contrasting background
- Branding - The sponsor of the advertising message must be clearly identified in an ad.
- Competitive Claims - Yahoo! competitors are prohibited from advertising on Yahoo! owned and operated sites.
- Data Collecting Ads – Ads collecting data from users must, at a minimum, clearly identify the advertiser and properly disclose that data is being collected by Yahoo! and/or the advertiser, and provide the user with a link to the privacy policy(ies) of the party(ies) collecting or receiving the data.
- Foreign Language - Ads may contain languages other than English under certain conditions. All submissions of non-English ads must be accompanied by an accurate English translation.
- Objectionable Images and Language - Ads may not contain potentially offensive graphics or language.
- Pop-Up Advertising - Pop-up advertising is not permitted. The browser back button must work from the landing page.
- Pricing and Price Claims - All price claims made in an ad must be clearly and accurately substantiated on the landing page. Ads or landing pages that contain “free”, “complimentary” or synonymous offers must disclose the pertinent terms and conditions associated with the offer. Any disclosure (or notice that a disclosure applies) must be made in close proximity to the claim, and must be clear, conspicuous and in a font equal in size to that of the base font of the ad or landing page.
- Simulated Error Messages - Ads are not permitted that contain graphics that simulate interactivity (i.e. drop down menus, se arch boxes etc.) where no such interactivity exists, or mimic operating system dialogue boxes error messages, etc.
- Simulated News Items / Advertorials - Ads that mimic news headlines (in design, tone, sentence structure or topic), or resemble Yahoo! content are not permitted.
- Yahoo! Brand Guidelines - Use of the Yahoo! name, logo or other brand features without prior approval is not permitted.

Restricted Content

- Age-Restricted Content - Ads promoting age-sensitive products and services must be appropriately age targeted.
- Alcohol - Ads for alcoholic beverages must be appropriately age targeted and may only appear in certain Yahoo! properties. No direct-to-consumer ads by merchants are allowed.
- Contests, Sweeps, Lotteries & Games of Chance – Ads must offer a fair opportunity for all entrants to win and for sweepstakes and games of chance , must clearly disclose that no purchase is necessary. Sweepstakes and games of chance cannot require a purchase to participate. No offer may claim “everyone wins”, suggest that the user was specially selected to receive a prize, suggest that a payment by the winner is necessary to claim a prize, falsely imply that the mere act of clicking a button is sufficient to win or imply that the promotion is endorsed by any government or quasi-government entity (excluding lawful state lotteries).
- Over-the-Counter Medications – Ads must be for products approved by the Food & Drug Administration (FDA) and only for FDA-approved purposes.
- Weight Loss Products / Services – Ads cannot depict or be targeted at children or teens, suggest that the product alone is effective for weight loss or make any unrealistic claims about the amount of weight loss that can be expected from the product. Ads that make weight loss claims must contain the necessary disclaimers to comply with applicable laws and guidelines.
- Yahoo! Kids – All ads directed to Yahoo! Kids must be COPPA and CARU compliant.

The following categories of ads may require additional policy review and approval: Alcohol, promotions/sweepstakes, political, religious, ads that collect data, pharmaceuticals, and other categories as may be designated by Yahoo!.
